Examination Guidelines for 35 U.S.C. § 102(e)(2), as amended by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999

This notice sets forth the interpretation by the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO or Office) of 35 U.S.C. § 102(e)(2), as amended the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA). Pub. L. 106-113, 113 Stat. 1501 (1999). Specifically, this notice provides guidance to patent examiners and the public as to why the filing date of an application being examined is important and when United States patents are available as prior art. Further, this notice provides examples of common situations that will arise. At this time, the Office is not providing guidance as to its interpretation of new prior art treatment of application publications under § 102(e)(1). Such guidance will be provided in a future Official Gazette notice.

SUMMARY:

First, the AIPA establishes when the amendments to § 102(e) are effective. According to the AIPA, the new criteria for determining patentability under post-AIPA § 102(e) will apply to applications: (a) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (b) that have been voluntarily published. Thus, the revised patentability defeating provisions of post-AIPA § 102(e) are only prospective in nature. The criteria for determining patentability under pre-AIPA § 102(e) will apply to applications filed before November 29, 2000, and not voluntarily published pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 122(b). As a result, the filing date of the application being examined is a factor in determining which version of § 102(e) applies, i.e., pre-AIPA § 102(e) or post-AIPA § 102(e).

Second, paragraph (e) of 35 U.S.C. § 102 was amended by the AIPA to eliminate the reference to fulfillment of the 35 U.S.C. § 371(c)(1), (2) and (4) requirements. As a result, United States patents issued directly from International Applications will no longer be available as prior art under post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) as of the date the requirements of § 371 (c)(1), (2) and (4) have been satisfied. Post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) also precludes the use of the international filing date as a United States filing date for purposes of determining the earliest effective prior art date of a patent. Thus, under the AIPA, United States patents issued directly from International Applications do not have a "§ 102(e)(2)" date.

As illustrated in the examples, the effective prior art dates for patents being applied as references under pre and post-AIPA § 102(e) are the same except for patents issued directly from International Applications having fulfilled the National Stage requirements or from continuing applications of International Applications having fulfilled the National Stage requirements.

DISCUSSION: Sections I-VI below set forth the USPTO's examination procedures for the amendments to 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) made by the AIPA.

I) Statutory Language of 35 U.S.C. § 102(e):

Pre-AIPA § 102(e): For Applications Filed before November 29, 2000 which are not Voluntarily Published:

"A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by applicant for patent, or".

Post-AIPA § 102(e): For Applications Filed on or after November 29, 2000, and Applications Filed prior to November 29, 2000 which are Voluntarily Published:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) The invention was described in -

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a); or

II) Impact of Statutory Changes and Effective Date of the Changes

Paragraph (e) of 35 U.S.C. § 102 was amended by the AIPA. What U.S. patents are available as prior art under this subsection has been modified as post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) no longer recognizes the date of fulfillment of the 35 U.S.C. § 371(c)(1), (2) and (4) requirements for prior art purposes. Post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) also precludes the use of the international filing date as a United States filing date for purposes of determining the earliest effective prior art date of a patent. Thus, under post-AIPA § 102(e)(2), patents issued directly from the National Stage of International Applications are not available as prior art since they have no § 102(e)(2) date at all.

Paragraph (e) of 35 U.S.C. § 102 was also amended to establish the criteria for when publications of U.S. patent applications and International Applications may be available as prior art (post-AIPA § 102(e)(1)) as of their earliest effective filing dates. While a patent issued from an International Application may not be available as prior art under post-AIPA § 102(e)(2), the same disclosure in the form of an application publication may be available prior art under post-AIPA § 102(e)(1) as of the international filing date. Guidance on post-AIPA § 102(e)(1) will be provided in a future Official Gazette notice.

The AIPA establishes when the amendments to § 102(e) must be applied during the examination process. First, the AIPA sets forth that the amendments to § 102(e) apply to all applications filed under 35 U.S.C. § 111 that were filed on or after November 29, 2000 and all applications complying with 35 U.S.C. § 371 that resulted from International Applications filed on or after November 29, 2000. See § 4508 of the AIPA. Second, the AIPA provides that the amendments to § 102(e) also apply to any application that is voluntarily published. See the second sentence of § 4508 of the AIPA. Because § 102(e) is "applied" to the claims of an application during examination to determine patentability, post-AIPA § 102(e) is only used to determine the prior art dates of United States patents or patent application publications when examining the above noted classes of applications.

Accordingly, any application filed before November 29, 2000 that is not voluntarily published is subject to pre-AIPA § 102(e). Therefore, pre-AIPA § 102(e) is used to determine the prior art dates of United States patents when examining such applications.

III) Applications Subject to Post-AIPA § 102(e)(2)

All applications filed on or after November 29, 2000 (including International Applications filed on or after November 29, 2000 that have fulfilled the National Stage requirements) and applications filed before November 29, 2000 that are voluntarily published, must be examined in view of patents, whenever granted, with effective prior art dates per post-AIPA § 102(e)(2).

The following applications, when examined, will be subject to prior art available and accorded prior art dates under post-AIPA § 102(e)(2):

(1) utility, design and plant patent applications (including first-filed applications, continuing applications under 37 CFR 1.53(b), continued prosecution applications (CPAs) under 37 CFR 1.53(d), and reissues) filed under 35 U.S.C. § 111(a) on or after November 29, 2000;

(2) International Applications complying with National Stage requirements (35 U.S.C. § 371(c)) having international filing dates on or after November 29, 2000; and

(3) applications filed before November 29, 2000 and pending on November 29, 2000 that are voluntarily published by the applicant under the publication procedures of the USPTO (see 37 CFR 1.221).

All other applications, not listed in 1-3 above, must continue to be examined in view of pre-AIPA § 102(e).

IV) Applications Subject to Pre-AIPA § 102(e)

All applications filed before November 29, 2000, and not voluntarily published pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 122(b), will be examined in view of pre-AIPA § 102(e). In addition, pre-AIPA § 102(e) continues to apply regardless of whether: (1) applicant files a request for consideration of a submission under 37 CFR 1.129(a), (2) applicant files a request for continued examination (RCE) under 37 CFR 1.114, or (3) a request for reexamination is filed on a patent issued from the application.

V) Examination Procedures under Pre-AIPA § 102(e) and Post-AIPA § 102(e)(2)

(1) Determine which version of § 102(e) applies to the application being examined, as follows:

(a) If the application being examined was filed before November 29, 2000 and has not been voluntarily published pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 122(b), then the application is examined under pre-AIPA § 102(e). This includes an International Application complying with National Stage requirements having an international filing date prior to November 29, 2000 and which has not been voluntarily published. A request for continued examination (RCE) under 37 CFR 1.114 does not change the status of the application even if the RCE is filed on or after November 29, 2000.

(b) If the application being examined was filed on or after November 29, 2000, or was filed prior to November 29, 2000 but was voluntarily published pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 122(b), then the application is examined under post-AIPA § 102(e). This includes an International Application complying with National Stage requirements having an international filing date on or after November 29, 2000, or having an international filing date prior to November 29, 2000 but voluntarily published pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 122(b). The Patent Application Location and Monitoring (PALM) system will be modified to indicate the publication status of an application.

(c) Examiners should provide a copy of the appropriate § 102(e) text in the first Office action utilizing such a rejection. The Office action should make it clear whether the pre or post-AIPA version of § 102(e) is being relied upon. Form paragraphs for providing this material will be provided in due course.

(2) Determine the effective filing date(s) of the application being examined.
See the Manual of Patent Examining Procedure (MPEP), sections 706.02, 1893.03(b), 1893.03(c), 1895 and 1895.01, Seventh Edition (rev. 1, Feb. 2000).

(3) Determine and perform an appropriate prior art search.
The Examiner should search for the most relevant prior art under 35 U.S.C. §§ 102 and 103, including patents accorded prior art dates under post-AIPA § 102(e)(2), if appropriate.

(4) Determine the appropriate § 102(e) date for each reference, if necessary, by following the guidelines and examples set forth under Part VI below:

(a) Examiners should be aware that although a U.S. Patent based upon an International Application may not have a post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) date, the corresponding World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) publication of an International Application (published under PCT Article 21(2)) will likely have an earlier § 102(a) or (b) date.

(b) Examiners should note that an appropriate prior art rejection under pre-AIPA § 102(e) made in an application filed before November 29, 2000 based on a U.S. patent issued from an International Application (the patent having a prior art date under pre-AIPA § 102(e) as of the § 371(c)(1), (2) and (4) fulfillment date) may be overcome by voluntary publication of the application being examined. The identical disclosure of the U.S. patent issued from the International Application, however, is likely to be published by WIPO prior to the patent's § 371(c)(1), (2) and (4) fulfillment date.

Thus, examiners are encouraged to apply the WIPO publication under § 102(a) or (b) against claims being examined in applications filed prior to November 29, 2000 rather than the patent issued from the International Application which had fulfilled the National Stage requirements. In the event that the patent is used, but the rejection must be withdrawn in view of voluntary publication, the examiner should look for the WIPO publication, and apply it, if appropriate. Such a rejection based on the WIPO publication may not be made final the first time it is made as the rejection was not necessitated by an amendment to the claims.

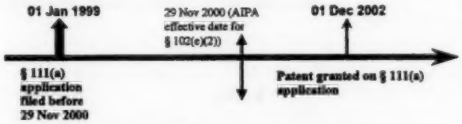
(5) Determine whether common assignee considerations apply.
If a § 102(e) reference is applied in an obviousness rejection under 35 U.S.C. § 103 (including provisional rejections) in an application filed on or after November 29, 1999, the examiner should ascertain whether there is evidence that the claimed invention and the reference were owned by the same person, or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person, at the time the claimed invention was made. A clear statement of entitlement to the prior art exclusion by applicant(s) or a registered practitioner would be sufficient evidence to establish the prior art exclusion. See "Guidelines Concerning the Evidence of Common Ownership, or an Obligation of Assignment to the Same Person, as Required by 35 U.S.C. 103(c)," 1241 O.G. 96 (Dec. 26, 2000) which modifies "Guidelines Concerning the Implementation of Changes to 35 USC 102(g) and 103(c) and the Interpretation of the Term 'Original Application' in the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999," 1233 O.G. 54, 55-56 (April 11, 2000).

VI) Examples

In order to illustrate the prior art dates of patents under post-AIPA § 102(e)(2), seven examples are presented below. The first two examples are limited to patents issued from only applications filed under § 111(a) and/or (b). The remaining five examples are for patents issued directly or indirectly from International Applications. The examples show the effect on applications filed prior to and after November 29, 2000, the effective date of the amendments to § 102(e) made by the AIPA. The dates in the examples below are arbitrarily used and are presented for illustrative purposes only. In the examples, IA, and WIPO has been used for International Application and the World Intellectual Property Organization, respectively.

Example 1: Reference Patent Issued from an Application Filed under 35 U.S.C. § 111(a) with No Priority Claim.

For reference patents issued from only applications filed under 35 U.S.C. § 111(a), the prior art dates accorded these reference patents are the same under pre and post-AIPA § 102(e). Thus, a patent issued from a § 111(a) application, which does not claim any benefit under either 35 U.S.C. §§ 119(e) or 120, would be accorded the application's filing date as its prior art date.



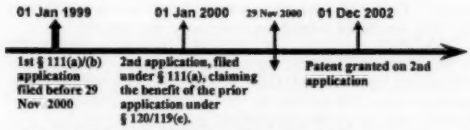
1. Post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) date of the patent: 01 Jan 1999
This patent is available as prior art against:
(a) any application filed on or after 29 Nov 2000; or
(b) any application filed after 01 Jan 1999 but before 29 Nov 2000, which has been voluntarily published.

2. Pre-AIPA § 102(e) date of the patent: 01 Jan 1999
This patent is available as prior art against:
(a) any application filed after 01 Jan 1999 but before 29 Nov 2000, which has not been voluntarily published.

Note: In this example, the post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) date and the pre-AIPA § 102(e) date are the same, 01 Jan 1999

Example 2: Reference Patent Issued from an Application Filed under 35 U.S.C. § 111(a) with a Domestic Priority/ Continuity Claim.

For reference patents issued from applications filed under § 111(a) claiming the benefit under 35 U.S.C. §§ 119(e) or 120 of a prior application, the prior art dates accorded these reference patents are the same under pre and post-AIPA § 102(e). Thus, a patent issued from such application would be accorded the prior application's filing date as its § 102(e) prior art date assuming that the prior application provides proper support for the relied upon subject matter.



1. Post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) date of the patent: 01 Jan 1999
This patent is available as prior art against:
(a) any application filed on or after 29 Nov 2000; or
(b) any application filed after 01 Jan 1999 but before 29 Nov 2000 which has been voluntarily published.

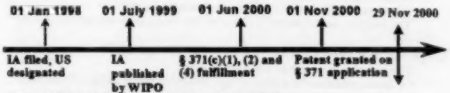
Example 3: Reference Patent Issued Directly from an International Application (a § 371 Application)

For reference United States patents issued directly from International Applications the prior art dates accorded to reference patents under post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) are different than the prior art date accorded under pre-AIPA § 102(e). A United States patent issued from an International Application will have neither the international filing date, nor its "§ 371(c)(1), (2) and (4) date," as its post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) date. Thus, such patent have no prior art date under post-AIPA § 102(e)(2). Obviously, the patent would continue to have its grant or publication date as a prior art date under §§ 102(a) and (b). In addition, International Applications published in the English language may be available as prior art as of their international filing date under post-AIPA § 102(e)(1).



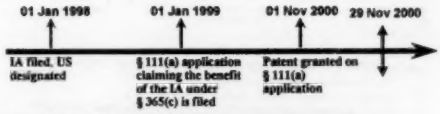
1. Post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) date of the patent: NONE
The patent is not available as prior art under post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) (because there is no date under post-AIPA § 102(e)(2)) against:
(a) any application filed on or after 29 Nov 2000; or
(b) any application which has been voluntarily published.
The patent is usable under §§ 102(a) or (b) with a prior art date of 01 Nov 2000

2. Pre-AIPA § 102(e) date of the patent: 01 Jun 2000
This patent is available as prior art against:
(a) any application filed after 01 Jun 2000 but prior to 29 Nov 2000 which has not been voluntarily published.

Notes: (1) There is no date under the post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) while there is a date under the pre-AIPA § 102(e).
(2) WIPO publication § 102(a) or (b) date is 01 Jul 1999.

Example 4: Reference Patent Issued from an Application Filed under 35 U.S.C. § 111(a), which is a Continuation of an International Application.

For reference patents issued from applications filed under 35 U.S.C. § 111(a), which claim the benefit of the filing dates of prior International Applications pursuant to 35 U.S.C. §§ 120 and 365(c), the prior art dates accorded these patents are the same under pre and post-AIPA § 102(e). A patent issuing from an application filed under 35 U.S.C. § 111(a), which claims the benefit of the filing date of a prior International Application under 35 U.S.C. §§ 120 and 365(c), will be accorded the § 111(a) filing date as its § 102(e) prior art date.



1. Post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) date of the patent: 01 Jan 1999
The patent is available as prior art against:
(a) any application filed on or after 29 Nov 2000; or
(b) any application filed after 01 Jan 1999 but before 29 Nov 2000 which has been voluntarily published.

2. Pre-AIPA § 102(e) date of the patent: 01 Jan 1999

Note: The post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) date and the pre-AIPA § 102(e) date are the same, 01 Jan 1999.

Example 5: Reference Patent Issued from an International Application Complying with National Stage requirements, which International Application Claims Priority to a United States Patent Application.

For reference United States patents issuing from International Applications complying with National Stage requirements, which claim priority to prior United States patent applications under 35 U.S.C. §§ 119(e) or 120 and 365(c), the prior art dates accorded these reference patents by post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) are different than the prior art dates accorded by pre-AIPA § 102(e). A patent issued from an International Application complying with National Stage requirements that claims the benefit of the filing date of an earlier United States application has no prior art date under post-AIPA § 102(e)(2). Any United States filing date prior to the filing date of an International Application is not relevant for § 102(e)(2) prior art purposes.

1. Post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) date of the patent: NONE

The patent is not available as prior art under post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) (because there is no date under post-AIPA § 102(e)(2)) against:

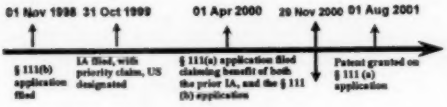
(2) WIPO publication has a § 102(a) or (b) date of 01 May 1999.

Example 6: Reference Patent Issued from an Application filed under 35 U.S.C. § 111(a) Claiming the Benefit of an Intermediate International Application and a Prior Provisional Application.

For reference patents issued from applications filed under 35 U.S.C. § 111(a), which claim the benefit of an intermediate International Application under 35 U.S.C. §§ 120 and 365(c) and a prior United States provisional application under 35 U.S.C. §§ 119(e) and 365(c), the prior art dates accorded these reference patents are the same under pre and post-AIPA § 102(e). Thus, a patent issuing from an application filed under 35 U.S.C. § 111(a), which claims the benefit of an intermediate International Application and a prior United States provisional application, would be accorded the application's actual filing date under 35 U.S.C. § 111(a) as its prior art date.



1. Post-AIPA § 102(e)(2) date of the patent: 01 Apr 2000

A patent issued from an application filed under 35 U.S.C. § 111(a), which was a continuation of an International Application which had complied with the National Stage requirements, will have its § 111(a) filing date as its prior art date under post-AIPA § 102(e)(2).

SPECIAL BOXES FOR PATENT MAIL

Special box designations should be used to allow forwarding of particular types of mail to the appropriate areas as quickly as possible. Such mail is forwarded to the appropriate area without being opened. Only the specified type of document should be placed in an envelope addressed to one of these special boxes. If any documents other than the specified type identified for each special box are addressed to that box, they will be significantly delayed in reaching the appropriate area for which they are intended.

Some correspondence may only be submitted via the Office's electronic filing system (EFS). For example, the following publication requests must be submitted via EFS:

a request for publication of an application as amended during examination (37 CFR 1.215(c)); a request for redacted publication (37 CFR 1.217(b)); a request for voluntary publication of an application filed before November 29, 2000 (37 CFR 1.221(a)); or a request for republication of an application that has already been published (37 CFR 1.221(a)).

Instructions on how to file such a publication request via EFS are located on the Office's Electronic Business Center on the Office's Internet Web site http://www.uspto.gov <http://www.uspto.gov>) under the Electronic Business Center section.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks
Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information for the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PTDLs receive both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office and numerical sets of patents in a variety of formats. Patent and trademark search systems in the Cassis CD-ROM series are available at all PTDLs to increase access to that information. It is through the CD-ROM systems and other depository materials that preliminary patent and trademark searches may be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

Each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as sell as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge. However, there may be charges associated with the use of on-line systems, photocopying and related services.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

Partnership PTDLs provide enhanced and expanded services for which fees are charged. They offer on-line patent text and image searching, on-line trademark searching, and videoconferencing for examiner interviews and workshops. They accept disclosure documents on site, order file wrappers, assignment documents and certified copies for their customers, and host a variety of seminars aimed at specific audiences, including practitioners, paralegals, and independent inventors. Currently, partnerships are located at the Great Lakes Patent and Trademark Center (GLPTC) at the Detroit Public Library in Detroit, Michigan and the Sunnyvale Center for Innovation, Invention and Ideas (SCI^3) at the Sunnyvale Public Library in Sunnyvale, California and at the South Central Intellectual Property Partnership at Rice (SCIPPR) at the Fondren Library of Rice University in Houston, Texas.
